Increase Your Chamber Music Pleasure!

What is The Cobbett Association? We are probably the World's only international research organization dedicated to the study, evaluation, preservation and dissemination of rare and neglected chamber music of special merit. We are committed to sharing the fruits of our research and to encouraging the performance of such music. Our members are listeners, institutions and libraries (such as Yale, Indiana & the Library of Congress) as well as and players, amateur and professional (such as, the Guarneri, Chilingirian, Miami, the Manhattan & Borromeo Quartets & the Trio Fontenay & Vienna Piano Trios), who wish to perform this music for pleasure and in the case of professionals, in concert.

What can The Cobbett Association do for me? A lot. For example, does your quartet know a Bass player or a Horn player it would like to play with but doesn't know of any music for this combination? Or would you like to play a particular piano trio but you can't find the music in the stores? These are just two of many things with which we help our members. Whether your taste is 1760s or 21st Century or somewhere in between, as long as the music is playable, the Cobbett Association is the place to explore this little known and exciting world of chamber music.

Member Benefits Include

- ☞ A subscription to The Chamber Music Journal, each issue of which is filled with informative articles on chamber music, evaluations of recommended works, discussions between members, record reviews and much more. The only publication of its kind.
